

ANZGOG

Australia New Zealand Gynaecological Oncology Group

Complimentary afternoon tea & information session for those affected by a gynaecological cancer.

This is a community awareness session for patients, survivors, carers and interested health care professionals to hear from and ask questions of the clinicians, nurses and patients involved in ANZGOG gynaecological cancer clinical trials. If you would like to be more informed about the experience of being on a clinical trial for ovarian, cervical, uterine, vulvar and other cancers that affect women, this information session is for you.

Date: Saturday, November 19, 2011

Time: 1:00 - 3:30pm

Venue: The University Club
The University of Western Australia
Hackett Drive, Entrance #1
CRAWLEY, WA

Cost: Free

Parking: Free parking in car park #3
Please visit www.anzgog.org.au for information on public transport options to the venue.

Bookings Essential:

Please visit www.anzgog.org.au for more information and to register your attendance online OR you can register via phone on (02)8071 4882 by leaving a message with your name, phone number & the number of persons attending.

RSVP by Wednesday, November 16.

